BRATTLEBORO.

A Republican caucus to choose 21 delegates to the county convention, and a town committee, will be held at the town hall to-morrow, Saturday evening.

A telegram was received yesterday announcing the death in Boston of Mrs. John Carlin of Halifax, the mother of Mrs. Carl Hollander. Mrs. Vaughn was in Boston for medical treatment.

The summer arrangement of railroad trains goes into effect to-morrow. While complete time tables have not yet been received by Mr. Brooks, the changes will be substantially those. The new morning train from Brattleboro north over the Valley road will leave at 6:15. The White Mountain train will pass here going north at 10:40 and going north at 1:20. The afternoon train from the north will arrive at 2:25 and leave at 2:50. Both the noon train from Boston and the evening 6:25 p. m. train from the south double and will be in 15 minutes. The time of other trains will remain as now.

A large number of Brattleboro people are interested in a happy social event which took place at Worcester, Mass., last evening. This was the wedding of Miss Houghton of Boston and Miss Nellie M. Wright, daughter of Dr. A. H. Wright, of Worcester, which was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, the simple and impressive ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. D. O. Means. The house was prettily decorated with flowers, ferns, and daisies. The company present included a large number of relatives and intimate friends. Many beautiful gifts testified to the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Following the ceremony and congratulations refreshments were served, and Mr. and Mrs. Houghton departed amidst the customary deluge of rice. Among the Brattleboro guests present were Mr. Willis Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dunham, Warren Howe, Miss Emma F. Houghton.

The Springfield Republican has this special despatch from Hartford, dated last night: "The special committee appointed to confer with Rev. Dr. Charles Smith, pastor of the Centre church regarding his resignation of the pastorate, reported to the meeting of the church to-night. They recommended that his resignation be accepted from July 1 and an arrangement made by which after August 1, 1893, a salary of $1,000 per year be paid to him. A strong letter was read from Dr. Walker in which he reiterates his absolute retirement as a necessity. Resolutions in accord with the recommendation of the committee were passed unanimously and referred to the ecclesiastical society which meets to-morrow night. It was brought out at the meeting that Dr. Walker's physician, Dr. Geo. H. Shepherd, a member of the church, Dr. Walker's brother, an eminent New York physician and two prominent physicians of Hartford agree that he must abstain entirely from all work and responsibility."

Five from Putney received the adoption degree at the grand initiation of Red men last Friday.

Work on the new Canal street school-house is progressing rapidly. The first floor is on, and the walls will be ready for the second floor next week.

The 18-month old child of J. C. Feltet, of the firm of Pellet Bros., fell from a second story window to the pavement at Worcester, Mass., last week Thursday, and it seems remarkable that thus far he has shown no bad effects of the fall.

H. S. Foster, division commander, has issued a general order giving detailed information about the tenth annual Sons of Veterans convention, which is to be held at Brattleboro, July 3, 4 and 5. Half-price tickets will be good going until the 7th, and returning until the 9th.

Thirty-two members of Killington lodge, L. O. O. F., of Rutland accompanied Master M. Foster of Brattleboro to Manchester, N. H., where they were to hold a convention Thursday night of last week. The lodge was organized with 15 charter members, and the members of Killington worked the degree.

The meeting of the Horse Breeders' association at Rutland promises to be the largest in the history of the organization, 150 entries having already been received. For the association stakes for foals of 1891, the Deedfield stock farm has entered Deedfield, and Hollander, and also made entries for the association guarantee purse for the 2:45 and 3:00 class.

One of the names in the following item from the Burlington Free Press has a familiar sound to Brattleboro ears: "Henry Almon, who was arrested for intoxication Thursday night by Officer Graton, came here from the city of New York, and was on duty at the city hall, where he was arrested on duty. He was fined $25 with costs. He also disclosed on Mary Hamlin and she was tried and acquitted. Almon was fined the usual amount."

Several Vermont horses are entered in the Rhode Island state fair races. In the yearling race T. H. Moore of Shrewsbury, Deedfield farm of Brattleboro and E. F. Brown of Burlington have made entries. In the two-year-old race Deedfield farm of Brattleboro, H. L. Williams of Brattleboro and A. B. Martin of Larnabee's Point have horses entered. Deedfield farm and W. H. Minor of Brattleboro have entries in the 2:40 class.

The sporting event of the summer which will attract the most attention is the annual Yale-Harvard boat race on the Thames at New London, Conn., July 1. The Central Vermont railroad company will send trip tickets from Brattleboro to New London for $1.50. The train leaving here at 7:45, Vermont at 7:55 and South Vermont at 8:00. The rate from all stations north of Belchertown will be the same as from Brattleboro.

"Ponder the path of thy feet," from Prov. ix:26, was the text of the subject of a sermon preached to the young at the Universalist church last Sunday by Rev. F. W. Sprague. Different kinds of paths were described and used as illustrations of tendencies, of thought and action, and of the moral qualities necessary to a successful journey through life. The illustrations were tastefully arranged and the church was well filled. Two children were christened.

The Democratic caucus, held last Saturday evening to elect delegates to the county convention, was called to order by Chas. Endlich, the chairman of the Democratic town committee. Mr. Endlich was made chairman of the caucus and M. J. Moran secretary. The delegates elected were: C. H. Davenport, Rufus Hanson, John H. Bliss, Edw. Dunlop, S. T. Davenport, Frank Emerson, H. A. Pratt, Jerome Ward, A. A. Stearns, Asa Marshall. The delegation were instructed to fill vacancies. No other business of importance was transacted.

The Hartford Courant has the following appreciative and happily worded notice to the resignation of Dr. Walker: "He is much too large a man to be appreciated by any subdivision of the community. The community as a whole has rights of ownership in him. He belongs to Hartford; he is a part of the city's life and fame. A council may sanction the dissolution of the pastoral tie, but all the councils in Christendom cannot dissolve the tie of esteem and affection which the years have wrought between the people of Hartford and George Leon Walker."

George Clapp, the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Clapp, was badly burned while playing with powder last Saturday in the garden of the Glorious Fourth. He had laid a mine beneath two rows of corn in the garden and touched it. The mine exploded at once and he began to cough, when it went off, blackening and burning his face and setting fire to his clothing on his left side, from which he was severely burned. The doctor, a careful looking specimen when first discovered, but the doctor's examination showed that he had received no permanent injury, and he is making a good recovery. When asked who he did not roll over in the dirt and put the fire in his hands, he said he did not "didn't want to spoil the corn."

Dunham Brothers are just finishing a very complete renovation of their store, which also includes several important improvements. Col. Hooker began the work with a new line of goods. The store has been carried to the ceiling on both sides, giving much added room, the upper shelves being reached on either side by railroad ladders. The show window has been enlarged and the glass mirrors at the back and sides, and the store is enclosed in glass paneling, giving an unusually commodious and attractive place for the display of goods. This window is to be lighted by a chandelier of incandescent bulbs. The store is being newly painted throughout and has been refurnished with a handsome carpet and new chairs. The completion of these improvements celebrates the close of seven years of successful business. The Dunham Brothers at this stand side by side with Emerson of Londonderry called at the house of Israel Lanson in Londonderry while both were under the influence of liquor. The only companions of the house at the time were Mrs. Lanson, her son, and Cynthia Nichols, a weak-minded pauper. Emerson and Porter demanded drink, but young Sullivan told them there was none in the house. They went away, but after a while they returned. A strong letter was read from Dr. Walker in which he reiterates his absolute retirement as a necessity. Resolutions in accord with the recommendation of the committee were passed unanimously and referred to the ecclesiastical society which meets to-morrow night. It was brought out at the meeting that Dr. Walker's physician, Dr. Geo. H. Shepherd, a member of the church, Dr. Walker's brother, an eminent New York physician and two prominent physicians of Hartford agree that he must abstain entirely from all work and responsibility."

The cottage has been remodeled within, 14 small rooms having been formed of suitable size for single occupants, and a change has also been made in the plans for the summer. No children will be brought out except those who may come with mothers or other relatives, the party to consist of the adult or aged needy ones among Dr. Johnson's parishioners. Mr. Knott, who was in charge two years ago, will be at the cottage again this summer. The help will arrive this week, and probably the first party.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Proctor, the photographer.

The Democrats are planning for a flag raising and demonstration to-morrow evening.

A. A. Smith & Co. are to give their workmen a half holiday on Saturdays, closing the factory at noon, beginning to-morrow.

Fred Harris's large barn at Chesterfield was opened last evening and the Philharmonic orchestra furnished music for the dance.

Ray's Fathers of Belows Falls and Houlahan of Ludlow have been conducting the examinations at the parochial schools this week.

Miss Wyman will continue in her position as teacher of music in the Brattleboro school, notwithstanding that she has a similar engagement in the schools at Greenfield.

All Windham county sugar makers are asked to meet at the Maple Sugar exchange, on Flat street, to-morrow, Saturday, June 25, to make applications for the bounty on next year's crop.

Fifteen shares of Vermont National bank stock owned by the Chamberlain estate in Chesterfield was sold at auction on the bank steps on Saturday to S. W. Kimball for $120.50 a share. The par value is $50.

Some large catches of fish from Spodford lake are reported. Charles Clark of Springfield and Larkin Farr of West Chesterfield brought home over 21 pounds of fish each, and other fishermen have been very successful.

The Keene Sentinel says that the Commercial Telegraph company which, in connection with the Postal Telegraph company has lines covering a good portion of the country, talks ones more of extending its wires from Brattleboro to Keene.

Dr. E. J. Hall, a homeopathic physician who will be remembered as having been here in company with Dr. Tucker for a time six years ago, has opened an office in the front room over Young & Knowlton's store. Dr. Clark occupying a back room in the same building.

There has been a good deal of talk since last Friday at West Brattleboro about the coming out of James King. A searching party was sent out Saturday night, it having been reported that King had been seen. It was thought by many that King had a confederate who was supplying him with food.

It happens, curious, that Mrs. Fuller, wife of the Republican nominee for governor, and Mrs. Stranahan, wife of the nominee for lieutenant governor, were in the same class at the Glenwood ladies' seminar at West Brattleboro, in 1874. Prof. Orenti. Mrs. George E. Greene was a member of the same class.

The first regiment to be divided into three battalions, with one for each major. The first battalion will be composed of E. J. Harris, of Northfield, H. of Montpelier and I. of Brattleboro. The command of Maj. Bond. Company E of Harris leads the regiment on inspection. The annual muster of the state militia will be held at Montpelier August 23-27.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held last Saturday and appointed the chairman of the various committees for the year's work. The lecture course committee, with Mr. Geo. L. Dunham again at its head, is already planning for next season's series of lectures. The Y. M. C. A. has a number of plans which it is expected will certainly excite the admiration of one of the past two winters.

Some of the young men who attended the High school annual reunion were very disappointed in the result. They thought the reunion was a failure. They drew a lamp, and a number of cups, and out of the rear entrance. The mirrors, lamp and furniture were smashed. Another desirable piece of lawlessness was the stealing of several baskets and bouquets of flowers which were presented to graduates of the High school at the Baptist church, Monday night. The case of the piano at the church was ruined by using it as a foot stool.

For the first time in America, Robert Browning's beautiful dramatic poem, "The Ring and the Book," was put upon the stage Thursday night of last week at Northampton. The players were seniors of Smith college.

The music for the play was written by Prof. C. C. Coe of Smith college. The Northampton Gazette says: "It was Prof. Coe's first effort in concerted writing, and while written in a careful, conscientious manner, there was no stiffness or artificiality in the chief charm is the apparent spontaneity, which is in reality the result of the most thoughtful labor."

A tale in real life which is stranger than fiction has come to light this week. During the civil war Milton Powers, a well-known resident of Halifax, and his brother, H. B. Powers, were open to some of the ranks. At the time of their enlistment the former was 31 and the latter 35 years old. It was always supposed that W. B. Powers was killed at the battle of Shiloh, for after that time his name was never heard from him by his brother. A letter was received from him by his brother, dated from the front, when a letter was received. The long-lost brother writes from Gladstone, North Dakota, that he is a prosperous farmer at that place, owning 900 acres of land. He is now 42 years of age and has a family of a wife and three children.

William F. Collins, Trinity '65, is first prizeman in history and political science. He has been a member of Phi Beta Kappa and has also won the Holland prize at the University of Wisconsin. The latter prize is enabled to devote a full year following his graduation to advanced work either in this country or in Europe. The political science prize was won by Mr. Collins in his junior year, although the contest was very close. He was last year, and this is probably the first award that has been made. Mr. Collins fitted for college at the Brattleboro High school, all his training having been made in the public schools. His record is one without equal. His interest is one which reflects credit on the Brattleboro schools, and the young man as well as his teachers. Mr. and Mrs. Collins will receive the congratulations of many friends.

This is from the New York Times of Sunday:

The Jewish Memorial church, Washington Square, will open this week a summer school for the young men of Brattleboro. The school is for the benefit of the aged, sick, and scholars who are connected with the church. The school is a two-story and attic building, with complete kitchen and bath. It was formerly the property of Mrs. E. W. Powers. It is situated in the midst of a beautiful park of 30 acres, and is surrounded by the old house, the shadow of the trees, and the garden.
